EXPECT LESS ACCIDENTS BY NIGHT LIGHTING

Bayshore Highway Has Been Supplied With Increased Illumination

A reduction in accidents was predicted by traffic experts from now on as the new Bayshore Highway lighting system was put into regular service Tuesday night of this week.

That section of Bayshore highway has been a treacherous section since the highway was built.

There were five daylight fatalities on that stretch during the year before the new lights were installed. Following the installation, a twelve month period showed but six fatalities in all, five of them daylight accidents.

Three different types of lights are used in experiment of the state highway department traffic safety program. The lights are placed approximately 145 feet apart on alternate sides of the highway for the three and one-half mile stretch between Bayshore City and South San Francisco.

Types being used are the "butterfly" reflector, the "airplane," and the glass enclosed type. These three designs, all different in appearance, represent three scientific solutions for the night accident problem and for minimizing of headlight glare.

F. J. Wellhouse, Westinghouse engineer in charge of installation of ninety of the new lights, predicted the increased use of highway lighting would materially decrease night traffic accidents.

STRONG PLAY IS TO BE ALCAZAR NEXT OFFERING

Vivid Dramatization Of National Social Justice Forcefully Portrayed

An exciting drama in which a powerful protest against dictatorship is registered made its bow at the Alcazar Theater Monday night, April 11. The play is Elme Rice's prophetic "Judgment Day." It will be presented nightly for a two weeks run.

"Judgment Day" is a vivid dramatization of national socialist justice as seen by Rice. Its theme is a passionate outburst against the totalitarian state, with an intense hatred by he author of its methods. Dictatorship is arraigned as defendant before the bar of world public opinion. Without any great strength of imagination the action of the play could easily be interpreted as what is going on behind the scenes in dictator saddled countries of Europe at the very moment. The locale, according to the program, is a "southeastern European country."

"Judgment Day" calls for the very best talent of the Federal Theater Project and it has been given just that. The five judges—played by Daniel Pennell, Richard Allan, J. Raymond Northcutt, Walter Farnsworth and Rupert Drumm—are excellently portrayed. Alice Hult, Leon Forbes and David Cole as the three victims of a political conspiracy render splendid account of themselves. Others in the cast noteworthy for their fine work are Georgette Arian as the opera singer, Crawford Parks, Maurice Hugo, Scott McLean, Vera Rothery, Ruth Saville, Buddy Clarke, Ben Legere, Max West, Solly Carter and Mario Scarpa. The cast numbers more than fifty actors.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" by Emlyn W. Williams, English playwright, will follow "Judgment Day" into the Alcazar.

Peterson To Speak To Jaysee Students

Frederick Peterson of Burlingame, former state assemblyman, will speak at the San Mateo Junior College, Tuesday evening, April 19, from 7:15 to 8:15, before the open meeting of the local affairs forum.

He will give his viewpoint on "San Mateo County Government." The talk is one of a series of Tuesday meetings dealing with San Mateo County government.

FEWER TRAFFIC DEATHS SHOWN

In the first two months of this year the lives of 940 persons have been saved through a reduction in the number of traffic deaths below those of the same months last year in the United States. February was the fourth consecutive month to show a reduction below last year's figures. Prize winning cities in the National Safety Council's contest have just been announced. Sacramento is the only California city listed as a winner, showing a 60 per cent reduction in traffic fatalities. Average for all reporting cities was 18.5 killed per 100,000 population, while that of the seven cities winning awards in various population groups was 12.3. These winning cities all had organized, sustained traffic safety programs. Let us see what we can do, in San Mateo County this year.—San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

JUNIOR COLLEGE STUDENTS DIG UP INDIAN BONES

To Display Art Work On Pan American Day—Athletic Activities

San Mateo Junior College students, working under faculty supervision, have started digging in the Indian mound on the Bourne estate in Spring Valley. In their first hour of work, the three diggers uncovered the complete skeleton of an Indian.

San Mateo is now displaying 23 pieces of student art work in the DeYoung Museum in San Francisco as a part of the student exhibit arranged by twelve junior colleges of northern California. Another display will be exhibited next year.

In recognition of Pan American Day, the junior college has arranged Spanish exhibits in the San Mateo and Burlingame public libraries. Materials from Mexico, Guatemala, Bolivia, Chile, Peru and South America generally were collected for the display by students in the Pan American Club.

Tickets for the term play, "Stage Door," will go on sale Monday for the two performances in May. Rehearsals are progressing under the direction of Miss Ada Beveridge, drama instructor.

Tuesday afternoon the junior college debate team will debate the University of California squad at the junior college. It will be the second debate with the university this term.

Defeating Sacramento Junior College, 6 to 2, in a recent league game, the junior college nine will face the San Jose State baseball team on the jaysee home diamond this Saturday. Next week the junior college team will go to the Salinas Jaysee for two league tilts.

San Mateo's crew took second place in league standings, just behind the University of San Francisco squad. The Mateans lost their race with University of San Francisco by half a length when the Mateans dragged a life preserver for part of the race.

Held To Answer For Alleged Assault

Frank Nobles was this week held to answer to superior court by Judge W. H. Clay on a charge of criminally attacking Marcella Aragon, San Francisco dancer, here several weeks ago.

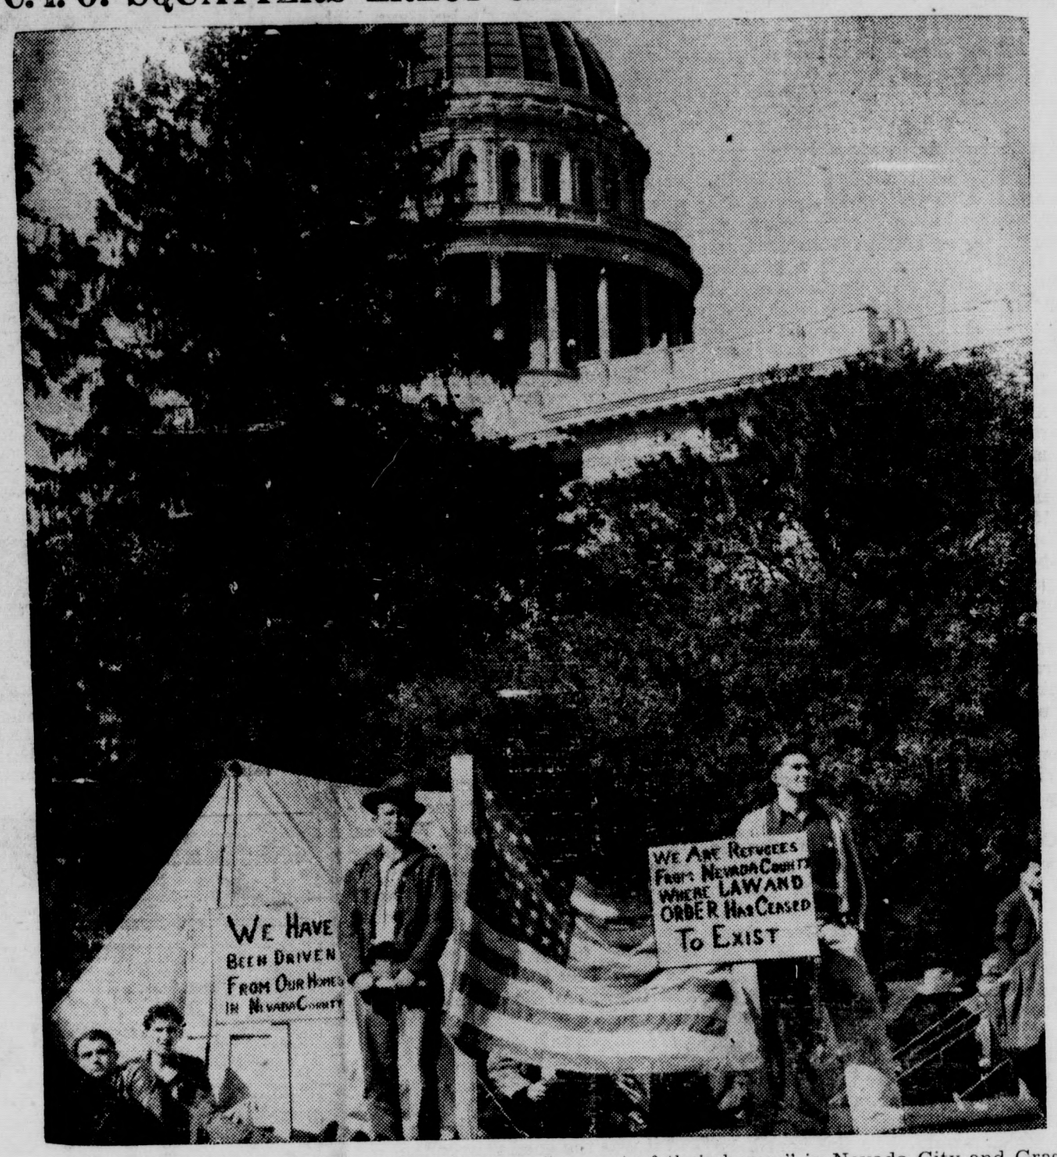

Nobles, acquitted in San Francisco of a charge of kidnaping the girl, is held in the county jail in lieu of $2,500 cash bail or $5,000 bond.

Holds Easter Party

Following the regular business session of Cypress Circle No. 14, U. A. O. D., held Wednesday evening of this week, members enjoyed a gay Easter party.

Refreshments were served from tables beautifully decorated in Easter colors with bunnies at each place. Mrs. Dora Morton was chairman of the affair.

C. I. O. SQUATTERS ERECT CAMP ON CAPITOL GROUNDS

Members of the C. I. O. mine union who were "run out of their homes" in Nevada City and Grass Valley, Cal., marched recently en masse upon the State Capitol at Sacramento, set up tents and announced their determination to remain until "law and order is established in the mining communities." Governor Frank F. Merriam promised a fair investigation of intimidation charges and later the state furnished housing facilities for 200 on land adjoining the state fair grounds.

Youth Injured In Fall Over Cliff

Clarence McLain, 24, 4469 Twenty-fifth street, San Francisco, was given a good chance to recover in Mission Emergency Hospital.

He is recuperating from injuries suffered in a 500-foot fall over a cliff near Pedro Point, on the Coastside, Friday of last week.

THEIVES LIKE ROSES

Theft of seven rose bushes from a vacant house at Edinburgh street and Fordham road was reported to San Mateo police late Saturday by Frederick Smith, 1446 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame.

Feodor Chaliapin Dies In Paris

The world famous Russian basso, Feodor Chaliapin, died recently in Paris at the age of 64, result of a kidney ailment which brought on anemia, against which blood transfusions proved unavailing. Chaliapin was born in a peasant hut in Kazan, on the Volga, now capital of a soviet republic. Although a "people's artist," he lived in exile from his native Russia. Chaliapin was well known on the west coast, which he toured frequently in the 1920's.

ANIMALS ARE TO BE RECOGNIZED BY SPECIAL DAY

Be Kind To Animals Week And Humane Sunday Announced By American Humane Association

Members of Humane Societies throughout the United States are preparing for the observance of Be Kind To Animals Week, April 24 to 30, 1938, with Humane Sunday on April 24. Committees have been named in each city and the campaign is well under way to focus public attention upon humane work during that time.

Matthew McCurrie, secretary of the San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has an appeal to clergymen of all denominations in northern California to preach sermons on the subject of kindness to animals on Sunday, April 24, and announced that material for the preparation of sermons would be furnished by the San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to any clergyman on receipt of a postcard at its office, 2500 Sixteenth street, San Francisco.

The movement to observe one week each year as Be Kind To Animals Week is fostered by the American Humane Association, the national federation of humane societies, at Albany, New York, and the association is making unusual efforts to have the celebration universal this year.

The committee for northern California is composed of 18 members, each of whom is directing the work in their locality. All are anxious to communicate with any one willing to help in the work.

HIGHTOWER STAYS IN

William A. Hightower, 60, convicted of the murder of Father Heslin, Colma priest, in 1921, was denied parole by the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles at San Quentin the first part of the week.

His application was opposed by District Attorney Gilbert D. Ferrell of San Mateo County.

Earthquake And Fire Re-enacted

On Wednesday evening, April 20, at Yosemite Hall, 110 Page street, Matoaka Council No. 18, Degree of Pocahontas, will turn back "Time" to the year of April, 1906.

Realistic scenes of the earthquake and fire will be re-enacted. Candles and lamps will furnish the illuminations.

Sustenance can be procured at the soup kitchen, by getting in line with your tin cup and plate, and the call will be "Come and get it!"

All of this will bring back memories to some of the older members and some younger members, too, but we hope the recollections will be pleasant.

Divorce Awarded McAdoo Daughter

Ellen Wilson McAdoo de Onate, daughter of United States Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, was awarded recently a final divorce in Los Angeles from Rafael Lopez de Onate, Philippine born actor. Miss McAdoo has complete custody of her 2 year old son. She sued her husband last year on ground of non-support, charging her father paid De Onate's bills.

SUPERVISORS TO DECIDE SOON ON COUNTY RAISES

Members Of Board Divided As To Best Means To Equalize Salaries

The grand jury's county budget committee this week confirmed the story that elective county officials will receive only minor salary increases next year.

The Board of Supervisors, Tuesday, were divided over the proposed salary increases for elective officials, and postponed its decision until the public hearing Tuesday morning of next week.

At least one supervisor was opposed to any raises next year for the elective family.

Another member favored increases for all eight officers who submitted requests for salary boosts.

Others favored the program tentatively agreed upon last week—calling for $100 a year increase for the recorder, treasurer, county clerk, coroner and school superintendent, and a $400 boost for the controller.

This plan had been recommended to the board by County Executive Rolison.

Some opinion was expressed that the county clerk and other officials in the $3500 bracket were entitled to the same raise proposed to give the controller.

At any rate, the "definite action" which County Executive Rolison informed the county grand jury's budget committee would take place at the Tuesday meeting caucus, failed to materialize.

It has been revealed that Justice of the Peace Wade H. Clay of the First Township, who conducts courts in Daly City and South San Francisco, has sent a request to the county executive for a raise in his salary from $175 to $250 a month.

All five justices are being paid $175 a month, this figure having been set by the last county government bill and continued after the charter had been adopted.

Judge Clay beileves that he is entitled to more pay because the size of his district requires that he maintain two courts.

Five of the six officials in the $3500 bracket, namely the clerk, recorder, treasurer, controller and school superintendent asked for $700 raises nearly two weeks ago. The district attorney requested that his $4800 salary be boosted to $5400. The assessor wanted his raised from $4000 to $4500.

The coroner is the only one of the six in the $3500 bracket, who did not request a salary raise.

Other officials who did not request raises were the county executive, the sheriff and county engineer.

GLAD HE IS STILL ALIVE AS GAS DEATH TRY FAILS

Conceives Idea Of Suicide, But Decides Life Is Much Better

Albert Dawes, 38, thought he would be better off dead and attempted to carry out that thought Saturday night of last week, but now is mighty glad his advances to woo death were spurned. He has promised never again to stick his head in a gas oven.

Dawes, according to police, returned to his home at 29 Peoria street, Daly City, that evening, and finding neither his wife nor 15 year old son at home, telephoned his sister of his intention to take his life. Then he stuck his head in the gas oven.

His sister at first thought Dawes was joking, but later went to his home to make sure. There she found the doors locked, and called police. They found Dawes unconscious.

He was rushed to Villa sanitarium here, where he lay for three hours in a respirator while the fumes were pumped from his body. He left the hospital Sunday morning, thanking hospital attendants for their aid and promising to stay alive just as long as possible.

Business Outlook — Three successive months of relatively stable production at the present level leads the government forecasters to believe that the bottom has been reached. Getting attention at present are two favorable factors. In the first place evidence that home building is showing a strong revival this spring under influence of the new Federal Housing Act credit terms. Second, the stability of the foreign market for American products stimulated by armament demands. The broad interest shown by individuals in construction of moderate priced homes has convinced the leading government economists that recovery will be brought about by home construction.

Detection Of Bad Money—Classes are being held by the United States Secret Service to help men and women in every line of business, determine good money from bad. Everybody interested is welcome to these government classes to be given free, and held in neighborhood schools in many places throughout the country. Fifteen secret service agents have been assigned to this work. Enlarged photograph reproductions of counterfeits will be used by these agent-teachers to explain the art of counterfeit detection and advise how to deal with passers of bogus money. New York City will held the first of these series of classes. A letter of inquiry addressed to Frank J. Wilson, Chief, Secret Service, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., will bring information of the meetings to be held in any particular area, or you may write to my office.

Harold L. Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, stated in his recent address: "May I say that if communism constituted the threat to this country that fascism does, I would be as unsparing in my denunciaion of this equally obnoxious and un-American system. But, if we are realists, if we are taking note of what is happening in other parts of the world, we cannot escape the conviction that so far at least as the present is concerned, fascism is the deadly and insidious foe that we must prepare to combat without loss of time. Let us make no mistake, fascism is a real threat to our institutions. More and more people are coming to recognize the danger even to America of this ruthless monster that hunts by day and prowls by night. They are coming to realize that unless we are luckier than we are likely to be, our concern for the safety of our democratic institutions will increase rather than diminish. For fascism—arrogant, devoid of conscience and knowing no mercy for man, woman or child—is on the march."

Uncle Sam Buys Goods—Orders for thousands of different articles every year are placed by the United States Government. Most of these orders are for mass supplies at terms advantageous to the government for all agencies rather than a single one. How the bids should be made and when, is determined by the Division of Procurement, and most of the business is done by contract which is usually awarded to the lowest bidder. Anyone interested in selling supplies to the government may obtain a schedule of supplies the government may need in the inquirer's lines by writing to the Branch of Supply Division of Procurement, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., or write to my office.

Youth Of Today—It continues to be difficult for the youth of today, both the urban youth and the rural youth, to fit himself into the social and economic pattern of the nation. The government is trying to alleviate the distress of youth by programs costing hundreds of millions of dollars every year. Some of these programs, the National Youth Administration; CCC program; vocational training and WPA program, are aiding youth a great deal. The greatest of these, the CCC. has the wholehearted national endorsement and any suggestion of curtailment would bring a severe protest from the members of Congress. It is a program that not only aids youth and their families, but builds up the health and morale of a new generation by building up a nation of hard working, clean living and well disciplined youth.

Aviation Students—Any interested person or company may obtain various reports made by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, which was created by Congress in 1915 to direct the study of flight problems and conduct research and experiments in aeronautics. These reports deal with aerodynamics, airships, engines and accessories, fuels, helicopters, hydrodynamics, instruments and materials, meteorology, parachutes, propellers, seaplanes, stability and control, strength of construction and other subjects. Lists of the reports available may be had from the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., or from my office.

Conservation—Several months ago President Roosevelt asked Congress for legislation to create seven regional planning authorities similar to TVA. Now the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors has reported a national planning bill for regional conservation and the development of natural resources. A national Resources Board of eleven members, including a member from each of seven regions, will be created by the bill. In each section, a regional conservation committee would be set up, which would, like the board, be outside the civil service. Both the board and the committees would appoint all necessary officers and employes "on merit" without "political test."

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

"Doctrine of Atonement" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, April 17, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "I and my Father are one" (John 10: 30). Other Bible citations will include: "But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ. For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us; . . . . For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father" (Eph. 2: 13, 14, 18).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage" (p. 18).

At his death Gus Gainey, colored, of Dunn, N. C., left to relatives a car he bought in 1917, drove until the first five gallons of gasoline gave out, and then parked permanently because he figured the upkeep and accident risk were too great.

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

By C. H. T.

And now Easter! Very much a children's festival, with its furry rabbits, gay-colored eggs, and all the other things that so attract the youngsters, quite as much as Christmas, although the gift scenery is different. For the past seven days the school children have run free, enjoying the week's holidays high, wide and handsomely. One of them called joyously from the road, "We're having a whole week of holidays. And nobody is crying about it!" "Nobody but your mothers," I responded. "They're in for a ghastly week of it." To this dubious sentiment my young friend lightly assented. "I guess that's so—but our mothers have simply got to take it on the chin. We'll be back at school next week, worse luck!"

One wise young mother has a plan that works well. When her children start "fizzing" with suppressed vitality, making the house fairly rock with their noisy games, she takes them out with her for a long walk, and by the time the family hiking party turns in at the home gate, after a couple of hours tramping, all the kids want is to sit down somewhere and rest until supper time, and so, quietly to bed! This mother declares the idea works admirably, and beside, is healthful for her brood, as well as for her own peace of mind.

Is everyone going to the Easter Mass, at Jim Troglia's hall at Rockaway, tomorrow, Sunday, at 8 in the morning? A large attendance is expected, so Mrs. Bicknell says.

Mrs. Grace Danmann's nephew, Wallace Wilkison, has been visiting her for the past week. Wallace is the son of Mrs. Sarita Wilkison, whom Pedro remembers as hostess at the little coffee shop opened on the Danmann property many months ago, which, during its short lived existence, found faithful patrons for the good food served there. Too bad it had to discontinue.

"Mac," Jennie Bicknell's big dog, who followed the "trampish looking man" over the hills last week, has returned. "Mac" got a good supper and a scolding when he limped home, but it was the good supper that made the strongest impression, we'll wager.

Tragedy on the new highway again. Last Saturday afternoon the body of a man was found between Montara and Pedro. He had fallen over the edge of the road seven hundred feet down to the rocks below. At the time of writing, the dead man had not been identified. The second tragedy on Sunday afternoon, was that of a man found wandering bewildered and injured by a fall, in Green Canyon, farther along and just off the new coast road. His car was parked nearby. The city ambulance service was notified and the man was taken to the Colma Hospital. His car was placed in the care of the sheriff until more can be learned about him. His name was apparently not learned.

The William Johnsons have been working busily on their week end cottage. Last Sunday they put up a flag pole and mended the roof, beside finishing the septic tank and installing water pipes. The road up to their place was in a deplorable condition following the sudden downpour of rain ten days ago which resembled a heavy cloudburst while it lasted.

We are glad to note the putting up of the street signs, now that the winter rains are over. These signs will be a real help to tradespeople and visitors in finding their way. "For this relief, much thanks!"

Hector Martin has been working at Maracci's lately putting some finishing touches on the indoor carpentering and the roof. When this fine place gets its garden and shrubbery growing it will be one of the handsomest spots on the coast.

The Glovers have returned to their hilltop home and the children have come back to the Rockaway school again. In the absence of the family their house was entered by someone seeking shelter, the windows broken and things in the house ruthlessly disturbed.

Crowds of swimmers arrived at Shelter Cove with the first warm Sunday and they declared that the water was unusually comfortable after the first bold dip. The stone bulwarks along the beach are being strengthened by an incredible number of truck loads of rock, piled up during the past months.

The Bohr home has a new sign with the name of the scenic place, "Shelter Heights," painted on it and the name of the owner, Fred Bohr, below. Considerable work has been done in terracing the steep hill.

OBSERVATIONS OF GOINGS ON IN NATION CAPITAL

One Of The Most Interesting Collections Of Literature Ever Assembled Housed In Building On The Capitol Grounds

(By Hart Goodrich)

Across the street from the Supreme Court building and just behind the imposing buildings of the Library of Congress stands a beautiful little edifice which houses a most complete collection of books, manuscripts, pictures, etc., of Shakespearian literature. This collection is valued at $4,000,000. However, it has just been made public that the world-famous Harmsworth collection of books, printed in England between 1475 and 1640, has been purchased for the Folger Shakespeare Library at a cost of $2,500,000.

Henry Clay Folger spent his large fortune in collecting Shakespearian literature and at his death willed this precious collection with funds for the building and maintenance of the Folger Library, as well as ample funds for the purchase of material of like nature. The trustees of Amherst College are also the trustees of this libary.

Sir Leicester Harmsworth began about the same time Mr. and Mrs. Folger did to collect books dealing with English culture from the beginning of the Renaissance to the establishment of the Commonwealth under Cromwell. Mr. Folger concerned himself mainly with the literature of imagination—poetry, plays and belles letters in general—whereas Sir Leicester collected materials including the subjects of philosophy and natural science, theology, history, economics, classical scholarship, education, law and the like. As a result, when combined, these two libraries furnish a more or less complete printed record of the Elizabethan period.

There are many old books and manuscripts concerning the discovery and settlement of America, including material by Sir Francis Drake, the younger, and Captain John Smith of Pocahontas fame.

The number of volumes acquired approximates 9,000 and is valued on the market at $5,000,000. However, the collection was sold intact to the Folger Library for half the price, or $2,500,000.

Dr. Joseph Quincy Adams, director of the library, sums up his announcement of the above news by stating: "Through the acquisition of the Harmsworth books the Folger Library, already supreme in the field of Shakespearian literature and rich in the general literature of the period, takes rank so far as the Sixteenth and Seventeenth centuries are concerned, with the British Museum, the Bodleian at Oxford and the Huntington in California. Placed in the nation's capital and deeded by its founders to the trustees of Amherst College to be administered as an institution for disseminating knowledge of English literature, it will serve as a valuable agent for the development of an exacter scholarship and ultimately of a finer culture throughout the land."

It is significant that Washington, the political capital of the United States, is fast becoming the cultural center of this country, too. A cultural center that is growing up untrammeled by the politics of any one party, uninfluenced by any transitory political thought, and free to include the culture of all races, creeds and political groups.

Railway Express Agency To Have Exhibit At Festival Of Youth

Helping to broaden the scope of interest at the Festival of Youth, the Railway Express Agency has made arrangements with the Festival Committee for reservation of display space at the old Vista Grande School, Parkview avenue and Mission street, Daly City, on Saturday, April 23.

Under the direction of James T. Greig, traveling commercial agent of the Railway Express Agency, and with the assistance of Leo Lemon, supervisor of motor vehicle equipment of the same company, an attractive and well balanced booth has been planned.

The booth will be decorated with colorful posters depicting exress progress down through the years from the earliest slow and uncertain cross-country Pony Express, which was vividly dramatized in the photoplay "Wells Fargo" featured at our local theater last week, down to the present-day fast and safe methods of shipping by motor, rail and air.

If Mr. Greig is fortunate in procuring the loan of a miniature stream lined train from the Southern Pacific Company, it will be placed on display as an interesting and educational feature for the youthful attendance.

A representative of the Railway Exress Agency will be on hand most of the day to answer shipping questions and to demonstrate the advantages of shipping anything anywhere by Railway Express.

Very progressive reports were made by the committees on recreation, education, highway lighting and the Livestock Pavilion, the latter being discussed and the club is getting behind their officials to assist in securing the $500,000.00 which has been denied District 1-A by the exposition commission. After the meeting the members were entertained with piano solos by George Stagnaro, who is an expert at it, and Rose Sabella and her brother with accordion duets; then a short time was spent in playing bingo. Mrs. Kane, Mrs. Calverley, Pat McGinniss, Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Mansfield won boxes of fine assorted cookies. Bert Dykman and Viola Happy secured cash premiums. Then all were invited to the dining room, where the social committee, headed by Miss White and Miss Wikse, served coffee and homemade cakes.

Condemned Felon Bequeaths Eye To Oregon Cleric

Albert Kessell

Albert Kessell, doomed to be California's first lethal gas victim, recently bequeathed to the Rev. U. E. Harding of Portland, Ore., the cornea of his left eye. Surgeons will attempt to save the minister from blindness. BAYSHORE NEWS

(By Irene Mardecich)

In completa triumph, Mayor Lawson and Councilman Armin Herrmann, won victory at the polls at Bayshore, Tuesday. Confidence of the people of Bayshore was shown despite propaganda that was violent in its nature to the present administration. A last minute surprise was the swing of Claude C. Higgins, erstwhile campaign manager, at the eleventh hour, of his support from Bert E. Ford to S. Longwell. Reasons were not very clearly given, but the "fall-guy" seemed to be Bert E. Ford, who had faithfully stuck to his party after being chosen as a candidate by the "Citizens Committee." Samuel Longwell, a candidate who was trying for votes as independent, was chosen by Higgins at the last moment as the man who could save Bayshore (along with George Stone) from permanent perdition and ruination. His platform was not very clear to the majority; on one side he told how he intended to cut expenses and save the treasury; on the other side, he told what all he would do to help spend the treasury and use it up. Mr. Stone's greatest drawback was the fact that he couldn't make up his mind just who he was running with or who he wanted for a running mate and his partner in his crusade for better government and to clean up in Bayshore. Mr. Bert Ford seems to be the one to have the last laugh and who would have 'thunk' it a week ago.

Mrs. Emma C. Shaw, incumbent, defeated Mrs. Mabel C. Hatch for the position of city clerk. Mrs. Leta Riley was unopposed for the position of treasurer.

Children of the Bayshore School will enjoy the music of the WPA orchestra, when they return to school after the Easter vacation. Arrangements will be made by the principals of the Bayshore and Brisbane Schools through Miss Works, music director of San Mateo County and the trustees of the Visitacion Elementary School District.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the whist and social evening rally held by the Bayshore Voters League on the eve of the election. Mr. William Varley, leader in civic clubs and San Francisco, and Robert Klassen, city engineer, spoke in behalf of the incumbents. With the exception of introduction of candidates Lawson, Herrmann and Hatch, there were no other speeches. Twelve hands of whist were played, with many lovely prizes, followed by dancing and refreshments, all on the Voters League.

Plans are afoot for an Easter Egg Hunt. It has not been definitely decided at the late date if the necessary money will be raised, but if it is at all possible the ladies of Bayshore, headed by the P. T. A., will endeavor to have the hunt so that the children will not be disappointed.

We noticed quite a group up on the hillside above Sierra Point last Sunday, as Mr. Rhodes and his wife played hosts to many of the neighbors at an open air barbecue.

Bob Burns and his little brother Tiny climbed our frame the other day for wondering what had happened to the rifle club. We were informed that they have a shoot every Sunday, and still meet at Bob's twice a month. So sorry, but when there is a club of that kind we expected to hear a lot of shooting. By the way, we understand that the above mentioned barbecue was the result of Mr. Rhodes hitting the bull's eye a little more often than any others.

We met Mrs. De Silva's young son the other day. You had better sign him up, boys, he looks husky enough to make a mighty good football player.

LOCAL CHURCH SUNRISE SERVICE EASTER MORNING

As you know Easter comes this year on April 17th. We have experienced a wonderful campaign leading to it. I trust nothing will hinder you from being present with us on that triumphant day.

During the present pastorate we have not been asking for any money for our building fund, but have felt we could do it at this time. Friends, I believe in you and I believe we can and will make this Easter offering to the glory of Jesus Christ and for the strengthening of the work of His Church. The larger gifts with the smaller gifts will make it possible to have a great victory.

I urge you, each one, to have a part in this offering. Remember that our Lord Jesus Christ asks us to do according to our abilty.

Sharing with you this responsibility, and rejoicing with you in every Christian victory.

May this Easter Season bring to you each and all an ever growing knowledge of Him, and an ever deeper realization of the power of His resurrection. This is my most earnest Easter prayer for all of you.

Yours in Fellowship and Triumph of the Gospel.
MERLIN, C. DONALDSON,
Pastor.

An impressive scholastic record is that of Bondo Hansen of Herman, Neb., who was president, secretary and treasurer of his high school graduating class. It was also conceded that he was the most popular member, the handsomest, and the one most likely to succeed. In other words, he was the only member in his class.

All school tickets are good for any performance during the run of "Pinocchio" regardless of the date printed on them.
